MODEL FOR THE DAY

Want to try your hand at modelling, or even just be a model for a day? My model portfolio photoshoots are the perfect way to try modelling for the first time. It's the perfect way to treat yourself or gift to someone special who has always wanted to be a model for the day.

THE BASICS

There are essential photos every model needs, especially when applying to join a model agency,

- clean headshot
- full-length body shot
- side profile

These are always done on request during your shoot if you are looking to apply as a model in the future.

VERSATILITY

During your photoshoot I like to try and give you as much variety of photos as we can, such as change in studio background colour and outfit changes. Model agencies like to see that a model has a range of 'looks' and can be versatile in their appearance.
